Miss Mabel Lyons, sister of the bride, and Mr. Sam McCormick were the only attendants. About 100 friends from Lexington, Paris and Mt. Sterling were present for the ceremony. Miss Lyons is well remembered here at her old home where she is quite popular and has a host of friends who join in extending heartiest congratulations.

WAR VETERAN FOUND DEAD

Mr. Albert Skidmore, One of the County's Most Prominent Farmers Dies Suddenly.

Mr. Albert Skidmore, aged about 80 years, one of Montgomery county's most popular and prominent farmers, was found dead in the barn lot of Dr. R. E. May, on East High street, this city, last Wednesday at noon. Mr. Skidmore had been hauling manure from Dr. May's and it is thought his death was the result of heart trouble, brought on by exertion. The body was found by Dr. May and taken to his residence on Harrison avenue, at which place the funeral was held Friday afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. Clyde Darsie. The remains were placed in the vault in Maephelah cemetery.

Mr. Skidmore was a native of Harlan county but moved to this county several years ago from Powell county. He served throughout the Civil War as a Sargeant in the Seventh Kentucky Regiment in the Union Army and was in the siege of Vicksburg, being one of the eighty survivors of his regiment after the capture of that stronghold. He was a man of rugged honesty, a life-long Republican, and was until death proud of the part he took in defense of the union.

Mr. Skidmore was twice married, his first wife dying many years ago, leaving six children. After coming to this county he was married to Miss Bettie Wells, sister of 'Spure Murt Wells, who, together with two sons, Henry and James, survive him. He was also the father of Mitchell and Aley Skidmore, Mrs. Jennie Lowry and Mrs. Lizzie Wells, all of this county, and Mrs. Polly Potts, of Bourbon county, and Jerome Skidmore, of Mississippi, by his first marriage. Mr. Skidmore made many warm friends during his residence here and the news of his

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Dr. J. B. Spratt, with a few intimate friends, celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday, at his residence near Canargo, last Thursday. Always a great reader, his fund of knowledge covers a wide field. He has ever been noted for his rugged honesty and frankness and yet retains his vigor of mind and body, to a remarkable degree. The friends of this excellent gentleman throughout the State join us in extending congratulations and in wishing him many returns of the day.

His sudden death was received everywhere with deep sorrow.

His wife, children and relatives have the deepest sympathy of all in their loss.

MISS KENDALL WEDS

On last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Thomson, Miss Jean Kendall became the wife of Mr. J. L. Thweatt, of Atlanta, Ga. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. V. P. Yeaman, of the Presbyterian church, in a most impressive manner. Mrs. Harry B. Ringo was matron of honor and her little son, Silas Stoffer Ringo, bore the wedding ring to the altar. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. A. P. Darnall, of Flemingsburg. Mr. H. E. Morris, of Birmingham, Ala., was the groom's best man.

The home was tastefully decorated and before and after the ceremony beautiful music was rendered by Prof. Bruce Reynolds and Mrs. John Stoffer. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few close friends and relatives. Following the solemn words which pronounced the happy couple man and wife, a light luncheon was served, after which the couple started upon their honeymoon.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mary T. D. Kendall and is a young lady possessed with those many charms and talents for which the fair county of old Montgomery has long been noted for having so many of within her borders. She has, for some time, been one of the leaders in the younger social set of this city and is exceedingly popular wherever she is known. The groom comes of an old aristocratic Southern family and is said to be a splendid and deserving gentleman, well worthy of the sweet and attractive girl he has won for a life companion. They will make their future residence at the groom's home in Atlanta, Ga.

Those from a distance who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Darnall, of Flemingsburg; Mr. C. H. Darnall, of Helena; Miss Anna Pogue Darnall, of Mayslick; Miss Virginia Baldwin, of Winchester; Miss Penelope Hope, of Cincinnati; and Mr. H. E. Morris, of Birmingham, Alabama.

We join hosts of friends in this city and throughout the entire Blue Grass section in extending heartiest congratulations.

AN APPEAL TO COMMUNITY LOYALTY

It will not be long now until the holiday shopping will be in full swing, and before it opens we wish to have a few words with our fellow citizens on the question of how and where this holiday money is to be spent.

Are you going to patronize the mail order houses this year as perhaps many of you did last year? Or are you going to, if necessary, even make a slight sacrifice and stick to home people?

Whence came the money that you are intending to send to that mail order concern? Did it come from the city in which that concern is located? Not by a long shot. If you are a farmer it is the product of the soil. What soil? Why, the soil of YOUR COMMUNITY. Now you, as a practical farmer, know full well the results of the ruinous practice of taking everything from your land and returning nothing to it. You know that this practice must sooner or later impoverish your soil and destroy your source of income.

BAD STOMACH TROUBLE

Yields to Delicious Vinol

Shreveport, La.—"I had a bad stomach trouble for years and became so weak I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was poor, my food would not digest, I bloated and was very weak and nervous. I tried many remedies without help. I saw Vinol advertised and tried it, and now my stomach trouble is completely cured and I am well."—E. L. MARSHALL.

Vinol is guaranteed to tone up the tired, over-taxed and weakened nerves of the stomach and create strength.

Bassett Drug Co., Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Can't you realize that in sending your money away from home you are doing to the community just what you would not think of doing to your farm—robbing it of its productive power? You certainly are. Every dollar sent away from your community robs it of just that much of its power for good.

But perhaps you are not a farmer, but a mechanic, or trader. Then the responsibility rests even more heavily upon you to keep your money in the home channels of trade, because all of it came from the hard earnings of your neighbors and friends, and you have no right to deprive the community of the good it can do if circulated therein.

Yes, we can say no right. No man has any right to be disloyal to his community. Deprive any man entirely of community support and he becomes a parish—worse than a Robinson Crusoe, for he is among his kind but not of them. What loneliness could be more terrible?

If, then, you are thus dependent on your neighbors and friends, do you not owe them an equal allegiance? Are they to consult your interests while you ignore theirs? This were ingratitude of the basest sort.

Just suppose, you patron of the mail order house, that for a period of twelve months every citizen of your county, followed your example and did all of his trading away from home? What condition would your county be in? Would there be a solvent merchant in it? Not one. What of your schools, your churches, and all the civilizing institutions of our land? They might still survive if you bare all the expense—not otherwise.

Think seriously of these things, you patron of the mail order house. Realize that if you have the right to deprive your community of your money, all your neighbors have equal right—then imagine the consequences.

Don't be an ingrate. If you have a dollar to spend, spend it at home. Thus it stays and works in the only spot on God's earth in which you are interested. Send it away and it is gone forever.

$20 FOR ORDINARY SHOES!

The price of hides hopped upward again recently, says a Chicago dispatch, further intensifying conditions in the American leather industry and lending support to a prediction that within a few months Americans may be paying $15 to $20 for shoes of ordinary quality.

I know a man who goes through life ten minutes late. He was born behind schedule, and never has been able to catch up.

THE ON ROLLING WAVE OF PROHIBITION

In commenting on the result of the election in extending the prohibition territory, the New York World says:

"Michigan is now added to the growing list of prohibition states. Further West, South Dakota and Nebraska have aligned themselves with North Dakota in barring the sale of liquor. Florida, profiting by the example of its neighbor, Georgia, which had previously imposed the rule of self-denial upon its people, has elected a Prohibition Governor.

"The South has been so widely converted to prohibition for reasons peculiar to itself that Florida has stood out as a notable exception. Michigan was under no such sectional influences. Of its own accord it has broken away from local option and decided to create a new large area of 'dry' territory, with a population of nearly 3,000,000. South Dakota, joined to North Dakota, means another 1,250,000 in the North voluntarily under prohibition as a principle of state government.

"At this rate the Prohibitionists as a national party are rapidly losing their cepted the one doctrine for which the prohibitionists have steadfastly fought in the face of the ridicule and indifference of the country as a whole to their claims to special attention. From Maine to Oregon and from Michigan to Mississippi prohibition has won solely as a local issue. It will continue to win as long as saloon keepers habitually violate and defy the law."

The meat of this editorial is in the last paragraph, "from Maine to Oregon and from Michigan to Mississippi, prohibition has won solely as a local issue. It will continue to win as long as saloon keepers habitually violate and defy the law." In addition to the violation and defiance of the law, which has added the greatest impetus to the movement for prohibition, is the constant interjection of the liquor men into politics, causing a feeling of deep resentment because of their selfish dominance of party organization and their unsatisfied and insatiable demand for control of legislative and executive office.

It may now be too late for the liquor men to stop the onrolling wave for prohibition. Could they have realized ten years ago that if they conducted their business in accord with the law, sold liquor as other merchants sell their goods, refrained from participation in politics as an organized body, unbound by party convention or party allegiance, and controlled only by their own interests, they might have stopped the oncoming wave.

It is now some ten or twelve years since The Herald first notified the liquor men of Kentucky that they were facing certain, even though somewhat delayed, prohibition, if they continued their course. They injected themselves into every question; they opposed the granting of suffrage to women in school elections, because they looked upon it as the first step towards equal suffrage; they required of every public man and of every newspaper absolute subservience or else threatened the man or the paper with their dire vengeance, and with destruction if it lay within their power to satiate their vengeance to its fullest desire.

In each election one or more states is added to the prohibition column. Each election adds to the territory in which it is illegal to sell liquor under any circumstances.

ready dry; Tennessee is a prohibition state. To the South, to the West, and now to the Northwest there are dry territories separated by oceans of wet. But as there is an influence emanating from each state, as such a State as Michigan, with Detroit the most rapidly growing city in the United States becomes dry, so does the momentum of the prohibition wave increase.

As we indicated four years ago that both parties would include in their national platform a plank in favor of equal suffrage for women, so now we predict that four years from now, at least one and probably both parties will include in its platform a plank favoring national prohibition. And if but one party includes such a plank that party will win the next election.—Lexington Herald.

Fishing is like anything else. There isn't any fun in it if you have to catch 'em for a living.

IN OUR great-great-grandfathers' time many New England families had a cask of rum in the cellar.

It was freely offered to guests (except children) and freely partaken of, even as coffee is today.

This old-time custom gradually passed out of existence, for our forefathers recognized it was harmful.

Another old-time custom—coffee drinking—is slowly passing in the same fashion and for the same reason.

The abandonment of coffee drinking is made easy nowadays by the use of Instant Postum, the pure cereal beverage with the coffee-like taste.

Unlike coffee, this purely American table drink contains no "caffeine" or other harmful substance.

Postum is now used daily in tens of thousands of the best of American homes where reason rules and health is valued.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

The Louisville Times and Courier-Journal last week occasioned a good deal of surprise by declaring themselves in favor of an early submission of constitutional amendments on the questions of state-wide prohibition and woman suffrage.

In doing so, the Courier-Journal declared itself unalterably opposed to both amendments, while the Times only declared against prohibition and reserved judgment on the suffrage amendment.

Of course the real motive of these newspapers is not positively known, but for them to come out in this manner on questions they are against and urge a vote upon them, indicates clearly there is a "nigger in the woodpile." Evidently they have included woman suffrage merely to muddy the waters and in an effort to conceal their real motive.

In our judgment these newspapers and the interests they represent, have concluded it is better to take their chances now than at a later date, in view of the ever-growing sentiment in favor of state-wide prohibition and then again, they want to get this embarrassing question out of the way of some of their political friends, who recognize in it grave danger, because of their well-known opposition to temperance legislation in the past.

While we are not familiar with the attitude of the suffrage leaders, we believe the temperance people of the State will welcome an opportunity to cross swords with the Courier-Journal and Times on the question of state-wide prohibition, at any and all times.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

We believe the suggestion of Senator Geo. F. Chamberlain, of Oregon, that our federal constitution be amended so as to admit of the election of a President by a direct vote of the people, is a good one.

Such a plan would greatly shorten the ballot, a much needed reform; would prevent a division of a state's vote, (due to the highest elector on one ticket receiving more votes than the last elector on the opposing ticket, which occasionally occurs when the vote is close) and best of all, it would insure the election of the people's choice.

As Senator Chamberlain well said: "The recent election demonstrated more strongly than ever the desirability of electing the President by direct vote. If 5,000 votes in California had been changed that State would have gone for Hughes and he would have been elected, notwithstanding 400,000 more votes were cast in the nation for Wilson than for Hughes. Another time the present system might work to the disadvantage of the other party."

BRYAN IN POLITICS WITH BOTH FEET, HE ASSERTS

William Jennings Bryan in addressing the National W. C. T. U. Convention, said he was not dead politically, but asserted he is "in politics with both feet." He said he was in favor of national prohibition.

"I love my party and because of my love for it hope and feel that it will be a 'dry' Democracy," said Mr. Bryan. He said further that in spite of his desire to see national prohibition come through Democratic influence, his prayers for a nationless nation extended beyond party lines and that he would not necessarily await the triumph of the prohibition cause through the Democratic party, but would welcome a dry nation through the Republican party. He also asserted the trend of circumstances of the last few years were such that he was hopeful of a constitutional amendment perhaps as soon as 1920.

DIRECT PRESIDENTIAL VOTE TO BE URGED

Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, has announced that at the coming session of Congress he will introduce a proposed constitutional amendment providing for the election of a President by direct vote of the people. His intention, he said, is to get the amendment under way promptly so that it may be acted on by Congress, and, if adopted there, by the legislatures of the various states in time to become effective for the next Presidential election.

Senator Chamberlain, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, said he would also at the coming session put forward a measure providing for universal military service.

INTERNATIONAL ISSUES OCCUPY WILSON'S TIME

President Wilson and his advisers for the next few weeks will devote their entire time to the consideration of the delicate and vexing international situations still unsettled, which were abandoned temporarily due to the fear that they might become involved in the political campaign.

The most serious question to be settled is the submarine issue with Germany, as it is felt in the Capital that the present course, even where the rules of war are observed, cannot be countenanced indefinitely. With the Allies the United States is at variance on the blockade and the censorship of mails, and though the situation is not regarded as seriously as the one with Germany, it has in many ways proved to be more annoying.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. Bridges White will entertain the Bridge Club on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock.

Mrs. Robert Howell entertained a few intimate friends last Thursday in honor of Mrs. Cox, of Mississippi, who is visiting Mrs. William Howell. There were sixteen guests to enjoy the elaborate luncheon after which many interesting games of Rook were played.

The second of the winter series of Germans to be given in this city will take place at Ringo's Hall on the evening of Wednesday, November 22, and it is expected will eclipse any of the previous efforts of the German Club. Several out-of-town guests are expected to attend.

Mrs. Charles A. Lindsay was hostess at the beautiful Kirkpatrick home last Wednesday afternoon to the Bridge Club and on Thursday entertained a number of her friends at Five Hundred. Both the affairs were largely attended and much enjoyed, and the guests were served with delightful luncheons.

One of the most delightful Five Hundred parties given during the fall season was that Friday afternoon at Ringo's Hall with Mesdames William H. Strossman and Dillard Hazelrigg as hostesses. The hall was tastily decorated in winter flowers, and presented a pretty scene, with about 100 guests participating in the games, which were highly interesting and enjoyable. After the games a delightful lunch of substantial was served. Those assisting in entertaining were Mrs. C. T. Derickson, Mrs. Charles H. Petry, Mrs. Mattie Coleman, Mrs. Joe M. Conroy, Mrs. C. T. Hazelrigg, Mrs. D. J. Prewitt, Mrs. A. G. Prewitt, Mrs. Charles D. Grubbs and Miss Hazel Grubbs.

The reception given by Mrs. J. C. Graves and the Misses Graves Saturday afternoon at their home on Holt avenue was one of the prettiest events of the fall social season. The house was tastefully and elaborately decorated with cut flowers and potted plants and presented a beautiful appearance. An elegant luncheon was served and those that called during the hours enjoyed a most pleasant time. The guests were met at the stairway by Miss Annie Turner. In the parlor stood Mrs. J. C. Graves, Misses Graves, Mrs. Mollie Gatewood, Mrs. T. K. Barnes and Mrs. Emma Graves, of Winchester, in the receiving line. Mrs. John Barnes, Mrs. Amanda Howell and Mrs. Ben Turner entertained the guests. Delicious frappe was served in the music room by Miss Lucy Clay Woodford and Allee Young, and those assisting in entertaining the guests here were Mrs. Rezin Howell, Miss Mary Smith and Miss Hazel Grubbs presided at the victrola. In the hall were Mrs. Sam Whitehead and Miss Bessie Shuckelford. Yellow and green was the color scheme in the dining room. The square table was of especial beauty in its appointments. In the center of a handsome lunch cloth was a large silver tray with a silver filigree basket filled with handsome yellow chrysanthemums, surrounded with silver candlesticks holding yellow candles. On the corners silver bud roses were used with bunches of small chrysanthemums and tied with tulle bows. A most delightful lunch of substantial was served the guests, Mrs. Roger Gatewood and Mrs. Percy Bryan assisting. As the guests passed out Misses Louise Barnes and Jennol Gatewood pinned pretty favors, suggestive of Thanksgiving. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ed. Grubbs, of Winchester; Mrs. Robert Armstrong of Virginia, and Mrs. Mark Stevens, of Lexington. About two hundred guests called during the afternoon and were charmed with the beauty, brilliance and hospitality of the occasion.

MT. STERLING LAUNDRY CO.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD MEDDLER

Most neighborhoods have her. She is the most noticeable feature of the landscape. She is always on the job. It matters not that the job is self-assumed, she never sleeps on

She is frequently the widow of some man whom the community held in high esteem. In a moment of fatal weakness he annexed her to his life, and very soon that life became worthless to him and he was glad to lay it down.

Since worrying him into his grave, her ambition seems to be to send him plenty of company for fear he may become lonesome, deprived as he is of her presence.

Nothing is begun, carried on or completed without her meddlesome interference. She knows the full history of every man, woman and child for miles around, and if an ill-timed breath of scandal is needed to wither and destroy a promising career, she furnishes it with glee.

Having long since parted with any youthful charms she may have once possessed, the possession of attractiveness in the young people seems to fill her withered heart with gall. The boys of the community are all triding and vicious, the girls weak and silly. Their mothers and fathers are no better, and really one cannot imagine what the world is coming to.

No affair of community or family life is too big or too little for her meddlesome tongue to dip into. She annoys us, but we tolerate her. She nags us, but we bear it. At times she almost runs us crazy, but we endure it.

And there is no remedy, no recourse—

Yes, there is one. Dr. Ossler suggested it, and was frowned out of court. But, honestly, when contemplating the tyrannical rule of this community meddler we sometimes wonder if the world was not too severe on the Doctor.

THE GROWTH OF PROHIBITION

One of the most startling and surprising things in connection with the election last Tuesday is the manifest growth of prohibition sentiment in the United States. Previous to that time there were eighteen states under State prohibition laws. Six more states voted on the question in the recent election, Michigan, Nebraska, Montana, Wyoming and Utah went "dry" and only California voted "wet." Of the five states that went "dry" four of them rolled up large Democratic majorities at the same time. There are now with these recent additions twenty-three out of the forty-eight states which are under state prohibition laws, only lacking one of being half of the states. Of these twenty-three prohibition states more than two-thirds of them are Democratic and the question will have to be reckoned with its next Democratic Convention. The great economical and commercial questions have been settled and the people are now on taking up this great moral question. It will play havoc with party lines and party organizations. It can't be shelved by politicians for it has too great an impetus behind it with twenty-three states already prohibition and with more than half of the rest of the territory of the United States under local option. Woman's suffrage and prohibition, whether we want them or not, are to be the big questions of this country in the near future.—Elizabethtown News.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE SNAGTOWN TORCHLIGHT

J. Bart Parker, now editor of the Plunkville Patriot, has just bobbed up as a candidate for Circuit Judge. We respect the Captain as an editor, but we want to say that he is a long-eared jinx, is as cold and austere as brown marble, and if he's elected it's a cinch the moonshine stills will have to move back six or eight miles in the woods.

Leonard Boulton has made up his mind to quit farming, he having some doubt as to how it ought to be done since reading several different farm journals.

The following original epistle was sent us this week by Nix Governor Myers: "Said the friendly city boarder—To his country host, 'I see—You have honey on the table—Tell me, do you keep a bee?'"

In the last issue of the Plunkville Patriot that pizen-faced Pete who runs the dirty rag asks, in a poem: "Where are the old girls?" He is so ignorant that he doesn't know that the girls, God bless 'em, never grow old. As the late Shakespeare once remarked: "They are always just as high as our hearts."

Red Relyea, our blacksmith, has employed Prof. Charlie Bryan to write him a couple of anonymous letters, which he will send to Sam Blumensil and Old Man Shudmak, who have been sending to Senrs & Roebuck for their plow points.

Dr. R. G. Davis is confined to his home with a bad case of the umumps. If it continues much longer he expects he will have to have all of his photographs enlarged.

Albert Shick fell out of a tall mulberry tree on Gimlet Creek, Thursday afternoon. He fell slowly and escaped unhurt. Albert says very few people know how to fall out of trees.

Dr. DaCosta Walker has wrote to Beatrice Fairfax to find out what will keep his shaving brush from shedding in the early fall of the year.

The Wild Cat Preacher has come back from Rising Forks where he has been carrying on a very interesting protracted meeting. He had such good success that he has decided not to raise a crop this year.

Little Sam Waxler got choked on a piece of bacon last night, and it was some time before the family recovered from the excitement. Hereafter Little Sam will be given no more meat that hasn't got a string tied to it.

The doctor was called to see Mrs. Ah-hee Ledgerwood, day before yesterday. He gave her several doses of medicine and thinks she cannot survive.

Urey Woodson says they have changed the name of Oyster Bay to Blue Point.—Elizabethtown News.

Colds

LOCAL MEN IN BIG SUIT

Attorneys Henry Watson and Lewis Apperson, of this city, and Kelly Kush, of Jackson, have filed suit in the Estill Circuit Court at Irvine against the W. L. Marenn and the United Oil Company, a Kentucky corporation, and W. R. Thomson, J. L. Young, Jr., trustees; C. J. Williams and Norwood Johnson, operators, claiming $180,000 for oil alleged to have been taken from a tract of fifty acres of land on Cow creek in the Estill oil fields. It is alleged that the company has taken out the oil on an illegal lease and the suit was brought for the heirs of the late John C. Curtis, who claim to be the owners of the property.

WHAT DO YOU OWE TO YOUR COMMUNITY?

Friend, stop and think what you owe to your community. But first stop and think what your community has done for you.

How many men in your community have accumulated what they have outside of that community? Very few, you will admit.

Now, how was it possible for you to accumulate property? Was it purely by your own exertions, or did not business conditions contribute largely to the result? If you are a farmer, and were your farm a hundred miles from civilization, what would it profit you? How much wealth could you amass?

No, friend, your holdings are not solely the result of your own energy. The entire population of your community has contributed to your upbuilding.

What though you are the most capable lawyer or doctor, if you are located in a sparsely settled country where there is little demand for your services, what does your capability profit you?

What of the expert builder if there are no houses to build? What of the engineers, if the nearest approach to a locomotive were the old ox-wagon of our grandfathers?

So you see that wealth is very largely a matter of environment. Without a populous community all men are at a disadvantage in its accumulation, and as the community grows in population the opportunities for accumulating wealth increase.

This by way of reminding you that however "self-made" you may boast yourself, you are in reality "community-made," and you owe a debt to your community. And the size of that debt is in exact proportion to the amount of your holdings in the community.

Now if you owe this debt—and we do not think you will dispute it—isn't it up to you to discharge it when called upon to do so?

How many times has your community called upon you in vain when plans for its betterment were being made? A road was to be built for which funds were not available. Did you contribute? A school house was to be repaired and the grounds beautified. Tow much did you help? Your church was old and out of date, and the membership wanted

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Life's a game, and we are all players in it, to paraphrase Shakespeare. And the best two cards in any hand are illustrated below—

First, the PAY ENVELOPE—Second, the BANK BOOK

Without the pay envelope there can be no bank book. Without the bank book the pay envelope is robbed of its FULL VALUE. The BANK BOOK is the logical, sensible supplement of the PAY ENVELOPE. Do You Hold These Winning Cards?

to rebuild. Did you chip in?
In short, are you paying your debt to the world and to your community in the only logical way—assisting to the extent of your ability to make it a better community for your children and your children's children to live in?

Now you will admit that you owe to your parents a debt you can never repay—to them. The only way you can possibly pay is to pass it on to another generation. That is nature's eternal plan.

Just so you can pass on to the community of the future what the community of the past has done for you.

Will you pay the debt?

THANKSGIVING.

From the time of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers, Americans have been accustomed to set aside one day in the year wherein to review the past year and take stock of the dealings of Providence with us as a people.

What was at first the spontaneous expression of grateful hearts soon became a custom, and as the years sped this custom became fixed, until today it assumes the sacredness of a permanent institution.

This season is again with us. The fruits of the broad acres of our fair domain have been garnered in. The warehouses and graneries are fairly bursting with their contents and prosperity sets a guest at almost every fireside.

TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

You are urgently requested to use the entire road and not drive in the same track all the time as such a procedure will cause the road to rut and, even though it might be only for a small depth, water will run down in the ruts and cause the road to deteriorate. A rut is very hard to repair especially until it gets to be three or four inches deep. The people should realize the fact that they are paying for the road themselves and should try to preserve same because it is their property.

CHEAPER GASOLINE

Urbana, O., Nov. 20th.—After more than a quarter of a century of experimenting, during which time he has spent a fortune, Dr. Chauncey B. Forward, of this city, has just completed and patented a new oil refining process. He has erected a $50,000 demonstrating plant with 100-barrel daily capacity for the purpose of demonstrating his process. Recently he completed a most satisfactory 72-hour test, which proved that his idea is practical.

During the severe test the process clearly proved that it will produce 49 per cent. gasoline from the heavy ends of crude oil, as compared to 18 per cent. produced by other processes commonly in use. It also proved that no carbon is developed, as during the entire test not a single stop was made and no carbon formed in the pipes. Its disposition is eliminated by steam.

The oil is atomized with steam into a still where a temperature of 400 to 500 degrees Fahrenheit and a pressure of 250 to 300 pounds is maintained solely by the incoming steam. The vapors pass off through a control valve on the top of a drum filled with baffle plates—the residue is forced by the pressure in the still into a succeeding still, where it is again atomized and the operation repeated. This operation is again repeated into a third and a fourth still. The vapors from each still passing into a common header and being condensed into one common grade of gasoline for internal combustion engines. The pressure in the last still forces the residue directly to the storage tanks. The result is a clear, water-white gasoline of low initial boiling point, rising gradually to 400 to 500 degrees end point, wherever the cut is made. This gasoline, fresh from the still under a distillation test, showed a per cent. or so of free gas—reduced by the distillation test—a per cent. or so of straw-colored liquid of the same odor as gas—bad, bad, and the usual trace of carbon, found in the distilling of any gasoline, dry. The product that comes over is absolutely sweet and pure water-white.

The process has already proven that it will mean much to the future of the oil industry. It has proven that more gasoline can be secured from the same amount of crude oil, which will mean a decline in the price of the product. With the standard grades of gasoline selling at 25 cents per gallon, Dr. Forward's process will produce gasoline at 12½ cents per gallon and realize a larger profit.

The process has been inspected and tested by some of the best oil operators and chemists in the country, and pronounced practical. They have been greatly pleased, and also greatly surprised, at the simplicity of the process and the demonstrating plant.

Dr. Forward is not a new-comer in the oil game, having spent a number of years prospecting in the southwest. About ten years ago he turned his attention solely to developing some new process and has worked almost incessantly on it since. He is now past the experimental stage and has interested several large financiers, who are back of the proposition. The demonstrating plant is already being enlarged and the capacity increased to 500 barrels daily, which will place it on a commercial basis.

SECOND INAUGURATION WILL BE SIMPLE AFFAIR

President Wilson's second inauguration probably will be a comparatively simple affair. While he has not yet discussed details with his advisers he is known to desire that there should be as little ceremony as possible. It is accepted as certain by officials that there will be no inaugural ball, in spite of the hope of Washington citizens for such an event.
